NORTHCLIFFE
AFFAIR STIRS
BRITISH FOLK

LONDON.—(By Associated Press)—The sensational and unprecedented incident of a British sovereign repudiating to parliament thru the prime minister, statements attributed to him in a newspaper interview, is given the greatest prominence in the entire British press this morning.

Political circles have been able to talk of little else since Prime Minister Lloyd George appeared in the house of commons yesterday and read a statement, authorized by King George, in which the king declared words attributed to him concerning the government's Irish policy in a reported interview in the United States by Lord Northcliffe, owner of the London Times, were a complete fabrication.

The alleged interview quoted King George as saying to Premier Lloyd George just before his majesty left England to open the Ulster Parliament:

"Are you going to shoot all the people in Ireland?"

The premier is said to have replied:

"No, Your Majesty."

"Well, then, you must come to some agreement with them," the king was quoted as saying. "This thing cannot go on. I cannot have my people killed in this manner."

YANKS FREED BY RUSSIA
MANHATTAN LIMITED HELD UPLIMA PAIR ABOARD TRAIN
ROBBED BY FOUR BANDITSPORTO RICAN REINS PUT IN NEW HANDSMOSCOW YIELDS
TO U. S. DEMAND FOR PRISONERS

PITTSBURGH.—(By Associated Press)—Four bandits boarded the Manhattan Limited, westbound, on the Pennsylvania railroad at Cassandra, ninety miles east of Pittsburgh, this morning at 2 o'clock and after wounding A. J. Lantz, a mail clerk, rifled the mail car and escaped.

The robbery occurred between Gallitzin and Cassandra while the train was in motion, two robbers having boarded the train when it stopped to drop the helper, an engine which assists heavy passenger trains over mountain grades.

TRAIN HALTED

They climbed down over the coal in the tender and while the other two were at work in the mail car, ordered the engineer to stop the train. This he did, and at almost the same moment, a series of shots sounded from the mail car, which was hatched just back of the engine. Two of the bandits, upon boarding the car, ordered seven clerks at work there to throw up their hands. They quickly complied and the bandits, selecting Lantz, demanded to know from him where the valuable mail was kept.

Lantz told them there was no valuable mail on board, at which one of the bandits opened fire on him shooting him thru both legs.

ROBBERS DISAPPEAR

The gunman kept the clerks covered while the other robber made a quick search of the car. Selecting a bag containing foreign registered mail, he backed toward the door and calling to his companion, prepared to leave. Meantime, the pair on the engine had done their work and as the train pulled into the little station at Cassandra they all dropped to the ground and disappeared in the darkness.

The conductor and brakeman, running toward the engine to ascertain the cause of the sudden stop, encountered mail clerks pouring out of the car. They gave Lantz such aid as was possible and then took the train to Johnstown, where Lantz was removed to a hospital. Physicians there said his injuries were not serious.

MAY HUNT BEGINS

Federal and county authorities were quickly notified and hastened to Cassandra where the search is being made for the bandits.

They were joined later by a detail of the state police, and a thorough search is being made of the mountains in the vicinity of Cassandra. Soon after daylight they found a mail bag, evidently one stolen from the car. It had been slit open and the contents removed.

Officials of the Pennsylvania railroad here said that the robbery is the first of a mail train in the long history of the Pittsburgh division. The Manhattan Limited, which is one of the crack passenger trains between New York and Chicago, left New York last night at 6:05 o'clock and arrived here 23 minutes late this morning. It was in charge of Conductor James Thorne and Engineer G. A. Dawson.

Passenger officials said that Lantz, the wounded clerk, resided at Thomontown, Pa., near Altoona.

DETECTIVES MEET
LIMITED AT LIMA

An effort was made Saturday morning to link up the robbery of the Manhattan Limited with the McGann-Townsend gang that operated in this city some time ago. A detective with photographs of the members of the gang was sent to meet the train when it stopped in Lima at 10:30 this morning. Charge of crews at Pittsburgh, however, thwarted the attempt at any identification by this means.

P. A. Kershaw, chief of railway mail clerks of this division, who lives in Lima, was of the opinion after being apprised of the robbery, that it was committed by a gang that knew nothing of train mails. The Manhattan Limited, Kershaw says, carries no valuable mail. Only first class mail, letters and a few registered letters are carried. There is seldom anything of value to robbers in such mail he added. Five men work on the mail car of the Manhattan Limited.

Bernard Blum and wife of this city, proprietor of the Bernard store for ladies, returned from New York on the train. Neither Blum nor his wife knew anything of the robbery until early this morning.

They arrived on the steamship Argentina yesterday.

MISSING GIRL IS FOUND IN GUN MUZZLE

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash.—(By Associated Press)—Louise O'Brien, 15, missing from her home all night, was found at daybreak asleep inside the muzzle of a 14-inch gun of the shore batteries at Fort Worden. Other guns at the fort had been fired just before the girl was discovered.

According to military authorities, he had gone for a horseback ride the previous afternoon. Far from home, while she was dismounted, the horse ran away and she, losing her way and weary of wandering in the darkness, took refuge in the long black object that suddenly loomed in her path.

Officers at the fort said it was only by chance that this gun was not fired.

$40,000,000
PARK IN LAKE
TO BE BUILT

CHICAGO.—(By Associated Press)—Blocked from the lake along more than half its south side, Chicago has started work to jump the intervening railroad tracks by building a five-mile parkway cut in the lake.

This is to run from 12th-st to 53rd-st, connecting downtown lake front improvement with Jackson park, and adding the missing link of a 4½ mile drive running along or within a stone's throw of Lake Michigan.

A start is being made this summer on the initial fill-in on the present shore line and on a necessary breakwater. It is hoped to complete the first part of the shore fill before the year runs out. This will eventually add a strip of land about 600 feet wide and five miles long beyond the railroad tracks. The made land will be converted into a park.

The much larger task of construction of a long, narrow park in the center of the lake may be started next spring. It will be built about 1,000 feet from the present shore line. Its east side will give the Chicagoans the uninterrupted view of the lake on the south that they have long wished for. It will be 600 feet wide.

The cost of the entire project is estimated at around $10,000,000. Work is being started under an initial $5,000,000 bond issue already voted.

Two men who had been standing on the pier said the woman was driven to the pier in an automobile which left immediately while she strolled on the outer end of the structure. A moment later they heard a pistol shot.

SAN JUAN, P. R.—(By Associated Press)—Governor E. Mont Kelly, the newly appointed chief executive of Porto Rico, was inaugurated today with appropriate ceremonies and in the course of his inaugural address declared strongly against any agitation for independence of the islands which, he said, came largely from foreigners.

"So long as Old Glory waves over the United States, it will wave over Porto Rico," declared the Governor. He continued:

"I want you to be fully aware that there is no room in Porto Rico for any foreigner who is not willing to support and uphold our established government. There is no sympathy or possible hope in the United States for independence for Porto Rico, from any individual or from any political party."

STATEHOOD PROPOSED

"The last two great national conventions held in the United States, Democratic and Republican, declared unanimously against independence for Porto Rico. Neither, my friends, is there any place in these islands for any flag, save the flag of our beloved and common country, the stars and stripes, and there never shall be. So long as Old Glory waves over the United States, it will wave over Porto Rico."

"If a majority of the people of these islands desire a change in their government, I would suggest that they advocate statehood. Plan to place yourselves in the same condition and situation that obtains today in New York, Missouri and California, and trust the American people for a perpetual square deal. If you can bring this happy condition about you can then elect your own government, your own congressmen, your own United States Senators and then, you can fully enjoy the privileges and fruits of the Liberty of Statehood."

"Today you are as much a part of the United States as any sovereign state of our beloved American union. While serving as your Governor, and trying to be equally fair to all, I hope you will understand that I shall steadfastly uphold and stand for our National government first. In the prophetic language of President Harding, I shall stand for 'America First!'"

EQUAL SUFFRAGE

Governor Reily, touching on the subject of recent conflicts between capital and labor on the island expressed his sympathy for those who toil and declared he would be happy to help settle industrial differences.

"Capital and labor are hand-maids in the world of affairs and progress," he said, "and neither can succeed without the other."

He declared he would like to aid in making the growing of coffee more profitable for small planters. He also expressed himself in favor of universal suffrage and said he hoped to see the language of Washington, Lincoln and Harding become the paramount speech of the Porto Rico schools."

Governor Reily also said he would strictly enforce the "dry" law of Porto Rico, which was overwhelmingly favored by the voters in 1917.

HARDING ON WAY TO PLYMOUTH

WASHINGTON.—(By Associated Press)—President Harding was aboard the presidential yacht Mayflower today en route to Plymouth, Mass., where on Monday he will attend and speak at exercises commemorating the tercentenary of the landing of the Pilgrims.

With Mrs. Harding and a party of friends, all in official life, the president boarded the Mayflower last evening for one of the longest voyages taken by the yacht in recent years. It is expected that the Mayflower will arrive at Plymouth about nine o'clock Monday morning after having made the inland passage thru the Cape Cod canal.

After the Plymouth celebration of Monday the president and Mrs. Harding will go to Portland, Maine, and from there to Lancaster, N. H., in the White Mountains, where the rest of the week will be spent at the country home of Secretary Weeks.

RIGA.—(By Associated Press)—The offer of Herbert Hoover to aid Russia in relieving suffering due to famine on condition that all Americans now held prisoners in Russia be released, has been accepted by the Russian authorities who suggest immediate negotiations in order to receive speedy assistance, according to cables from the Rosta News Agency, at Moscow, received here today.

The text of the reply, made in the name of Leo Kremensky, head of the non-partisan's non-political famine relief commission, is as follows: "RUSSIA'S REPLY." "The Russian government upon learning of the proposals made by Herbert Hoover in the name of the American Relief Association thus

MRS. HARRISON RELEASED

RIGA.—(By Associated Press)—Mrs. Marguerite E. Harrison of Baltimore, a newspaper correspondent, who was among the American citizens held prisoner in Russia, has been released by the soviet authorities and arrived here this morning.

The release of Mrs. Harrison was secured thru United States Senator Joseph I. France of Maryland, who has been on a visit to soviet Russia to investigate conditions there and it was under his escort that Mrs. Harrison reached here today, the senator having concluded his Russian visit.

Mrs. Harrison is pale and thin but not in a particularly bad condition as the result of her imprisonment. Senator France expressed surprise at the announcement just received from Moscow that Russia had agreed to release the American prisoners.

Mrs. Harrison was within five minutes of the top of the hitherto unclimbed mountain, the goal which he and his wife had set, when his own death occurred.

The accident happened on July 16. Dr. Stone was climbing above, when without a word of warning he plunged over her head to the abyss below. He fell fully 5,000 feet. In the opinion of his wife, she saw the body strike a rock, bound from cliff to cliff and on down the side of the mountain. She began a hasty descent down the side of the mountain and when found was 3,000 feet below the point where Dr. Stone had died.

Mrs. Harrison was taken into custody by the soviet authorities in June, 1920. She was released, but died for the second time, Oct. 24, last and since held prisoner.

Mrs. Marguerite Harrison, daughter of the late Bernard N. Baker, of Baltimore, and a sister-in-law of Governor Albert Ritchie of Maryland, and for many years a brilliant news writer, went to soviet Russia nearly eighteen months ago

SAFE IS RIFLED

Trio Secure $100 From Gasoline Filling Station

Auto thieves made away with about $100 in cash at 10 o'clock Friday night when they rifled the safe of the gasoline filling station at the corner of Market and Pierce-sts.

The attendant at the station was called out to fill a Paige machine with oil as the robbery was committed. Three men were in the machine. One sat at the wheel while the other lifted the hood in such a manner that the attendant was unable to see what was going on in the gas station.

The third entered the little station and rifled the safe of its cash contents.

Mormon Bryan was in charge of the station when the robbery was committed. A report was given to police.

Bryan was unable to identify any of the men in the machine. They were strangers, he said. He failed to observe which way they drove when they left. They paid him for the oil they purchased.

MULLEN AND NEWTON FIGHT THEMSELVES OUT OF LIMA

Muncie Lad Wins From Rival In Tame Battle

(By JOSEPH A. BERNSTEIN)

Hope Mullen and Johnny Newton cannot fight in Lima again—not if they expect to scrap each other. After the exhibition they staged at the Murphy-at ball park Friday night we doubt very much whether there is a promoter in the city who will have anything to do with another match between these two boys.

Mullen and Newton entered the ring at the Murphy-at ball park following the semi final wind-up between Toad Checkeye, of Muncie, Ind., and Joe Trumpeter, of Toledo. The battle had been a good one and the fans were anxiously awaiting the arrival of the main go, for it had given promise of developing into a most interesting scrap.

The two middleweights who are supposed to be deadly rivals of the ring started to spar in the first round. It was watched with interest despite the slow and measured action of the scrappers. Sentiment was to the effect that it looked like things were going to open up soon. It looked like Mullen, the big tanned gorilla, was studying his opponent, and it looked like Newton, white skinned, serious appearing Delphos idol, was going too awaiting the opportune moment.

But when it kept up for more than one and more than two rounds, and when the scheduled fourth was over—the round in which Mullen's Manager Sterline declared the Mayo was to be put across—utterings of "gwan and fight" began to run thru the crowd.

GET FRIENDLY

It's useless to go into detail on the battle, because it wasn't a battle. The word sparring would describe it much better, and perhaps loving would not be amiss. Newton can be charged with the latter.

After the entreaties of the crowd, the tenth finally presented some banting. Mullen tore into Newton and hammered the Delphos idol's jaw. He failed, however, to put the telling blow in. It looked bad from the ringside.

Referee Charley Maxwell awarded the decision to Mullen. Mullen won unquestionably, but in a very tame manner.

If Mullen has changed any since the last time we saw him it has been for the worse. His action in the ring last night failed to convince us that he is any better than he ever was. We have nothing to say about Newton's scrapping, except that Mullen should have knocked him out by the eighth round.

LAST DIRECTIONS

Sterline, after the fight, declared that Mullen had failed to follow his instructions. Perhaps the memory of a little contract tucked away some where in Mullen's mind scheduling him for a scrap in Louisville, Ky., August 8, had something to do with it.

The semi-final was the best bout on the card. Checkeye, a wicked little southpaw, had a mean way of chopping with his right, while Joe Trumpeter, of Toledo counted heavily with fast lefts. Checkeye led Trumpeter all around the ring and the Toledo boy followed, never letting his man get out of swinging reach. The first round of the battle was even. The next went to Checkeye and the third following to Trumpeter. The sixth was won and the last was Checkeye by such a margin that Charley Maxwell was fully justified in calling it a draw.

The preliminary was slow and uninteresting. It gave Battling Hawk and MacDonovan an opportunity to break into the game, but it was at the expense of spectators. They demonstrated the fact that they were inexperienced.

MULLEN FAILED

Had Mullen done what was expected of him, the card would have been called a success, for the last scrap would have been everything that it was expected to have been. But the big Muncie boy failed, and lost a good share of his reputation around these parts.

Roid McLauley, matchmaker for the Manhattan sporting club, was clearly disappointed in the man bout. Before the scrap he was confident that the two boys were going to settle the rivalry that the claim extended to them.

Fair golfer ready to "go around the course" with one of the golf machines.

Here is the latest invention for the pacification of golfers. The device permits really long and accurate drives within the confines of garret, roof or basement. The ball is tethered to a revolving arch, which works as an indicator on the metered dial. A clean, hard swing with driver or brassie sends the ball off straight to the end of its tether, then it whirls round and round until inertia ends its travels. And the pointer exactly indicates the potential length of the drive. If the ball is cleanly hit the pointer moves smoothly; if it is hooked or sliced the erratic motions of the indicator show the fault.

Stars Of Days Gone By Win 11 To 6 From Cleveland Comers

CLEVELAND, Ohio.—Old-time baseball players, some of whom played with Cleveland as far back as 1879, today defeated a team of veteran sandlotters, 11 to 6, the event being one of the big features of Cleveland's one hundred and twenty-fifth anniversary celebration.

more timely and fielded better than the veterans sandlotters and but for Nick Altrock's clowning in the ninth inning, would have won by a more one-sided score. The old-timers' pitchers struck out nine men, Berger showing to the best advantage.

Burkett and Bradley did the best batting, getting six of the professional 20 hits. Burkett got three out of three times at bat and Bradley three out of four.

Gatch made the professionals only error. The sandlotters got 17 hits and had two errors.

Morton's Hurling

All brands of baseball were displayed in the major league contests yesterday. In the National League St. Louis took a close game from Brooklyn when McHenry's home run, one of three hits made off Mitchell, scored the only tally. The Superbas hit Pfeiffer of the Cardinals only four times. New York and Cincinnati on the other hand rolled up a grand total of 17 runs, 28 hits and 6 errors.

In the American League, Morton of Cleveland held Boston to two hits and no runs in an otherwise game. Thirteen errors marred the game between Detroit and Philadelphia. In which the two teams pounded out 29 hits for a total of 24 runs.

Catcher Styles of the Athletics, equalled the American League record of four errors for catchers.

Goldsby, Rap, Philadelphia Nationals, increased his mark of consecutive game hitting to 24 by hitting a home run off York of Chicago.

Edgar Ruth must hit a home run today to keep ahead of his 1920 program. If he fails, he must do it tomorrow to keep apace of his last year's mark. In 1920, he made her 36th on July 11 off Van Gilder at St. Louis and the 37th off Shockey at St. Louis on July 31.

"For the first time in years," says Robert Barclay at 47 Johns Street, Newburgh, N. Y., "I am enjoying good health and freedom from rheumatism."

"For two years I was a slave to rheumatism, and no one knows how I suffered from stiff swollen joints, aches and pains. I was so bad for months at a time that I could not work and loss of sleep wore me all out."

"After the first bottle of Neutrone Rx. '99', I commenced to feel better. The swelling and pain left my joints and muscles, my health and strength returned, and I never felt so good in my life. It seems almost too good to be true."

"I could only meet the man or woman that Neutrone Rx. '99' will help. You can tell the world that there is nothing like it for rheumatism."

MEANINGLESS COLLEGE DEGREES

OUR college degrees are coming to mean things far different from that which they once meant, says the Rochester, N. Y., Post-Express. In fact, some of them are now applied to so many different things that they are well nigh useless as indications of what the wearer of them has studied in college. Now, a hotel man has come forth with the assertion that Cornell will soon grant a bachelor of arts degree for a course in housing, marketing, hotel accounting, institutional management and other things that enter into the business of conducting a modern hotel.

It is to be hoped that the hotel man is misinformed. If such a course is given the degree of bachelor of arts, we may well ask what is in a name. The old bachelor of arts degree signified a training in all those things that pertain to culture. There was not an item of business in it and only a modicum on science. Now we have bachelors of arts that never studied Greek or philosophy, that know nothing of literature or general history, but are "up" in science and economics and economic history.

There is no law that prevents colleges from giving degrees for these things, but there should be a law against perversion of the names of degrees by the application of them in such a manner as to deceive. The excellence and the standing of the degree of bachelor of arts is attested by the desire of these persons not having the training for it to have a degree, with the implication of culture that it carries. The pandering of the colleges to the utilitarian spirit of the age is to blame for this confusion and these deceptive misnomers.

FARMERS' DIFFICULTIES

INFORMATION gained by the Ohio Farm Bureau federation, from questionnaires sent out to farmers, discloses a rather peculiar state of affairs.

Farmers in 36 widely separated counties state that banks are unable to furnish them with money to finance their farm business, regardless of security, as bankers tell them they have no money to lend.

From farmers in 42 other counties come reports that money is available on good security and that from 7 to 8 per cent is charged on short time loans and 7 per cent on large loans. A number of individual cases show that bonuses are charged, more particularly by loan companies than banks.

Clark-co reports that 10 per cent is charged on loans of $1,000, Clermont, $35 to $75; Clinton, 3 per cent; Darke, $29; Madison, $100; Summit, $10 to $30; Trumbull, $50 to $100.

In Clermont, Clinton and Darke counties the same amount or percentage applies on long time loans, but in the others the bonus is not required. In Darke-co, a farmer recently asking to borrow $1,900, was obliged to take $2,500 and pay a bonus, which with the interest added, made 10 per cent.

The reports indicate that tenant farmers in many instances are able to obtain sufficient financial credit, but on the whole they are not. Not always having proper security, their plight is worse than that of the land owner.

These reports indicate that low prices for products of their farms are not the only difficulty confronting the Ohio farmer.

SLEEPING AND WORKING

SCIENCE tells us very soberly that we ought to be very careful about our habits of life, particularly habits which are associated with sleeping and working, the Dayton News says. One cannot burn the candle at both ends, in other words, and continue to have light from the candle indefinitely. In this connection we gained some rather interesting knowledge the other day from an aviation expert who commanded an American bombing squadron during the World War. This squadron had one definite object in view, in its nightly or daily visitations of German cities and that object was to keep the people of the cities attacked in a constant state of suspense, anxiety and alarm. "When the German workmen could not sleep at night for fear of our bombing raids, it was not very long before we knew absolutely that their workmanship would be affected during the daytime. A mechanic cannot stay awake all night in fear of an air raid and keep this up for several nights in succession without feeling the loss of sleep during the daytime, when he resumes his work at his bench." The bombing squadrons knew precisely what the moral effect would be on the working classes in Germany. Germany knew the same thing when she sent out her airplanes to bomb French industrial centers. It was the old story of sleeping and working. In these instances the theory was put to the severest test.

SOVIETIZING THE PRISONS

THE Warden of the Ohio Penitentiary strikes back vigorously at a reformer who criticized his administration, observes the Cincinnati Enquirer. Without seeking to pass on the merits of the controversy, there is much to be said in support of Warden Thomas' criticism of the modern tendency to overextend prison reform.

The Warden asserts that the recent rebellion of convicts in the Western Penitentiary of Pennsylvania was due to the teachings of reformers. At least it has been established that the riot there was instigated by prisoners transferred from the Eastern Penitentiary, and that their excuse for the disturbance was that they were not accorded as many privileges as they had enjoyed in the prison from which they had been transferred.

It seems that at the Eastern Penitentiary of Pennsylvania the prison reformers had succeeded in establishing a sort of soviet and that the prisoners there were encouraged to govern themselves and outline the policy of prison conduct within certain defined official limits. The effect of this system of prison management on the prisoners seems to have been that when they were transferred to an institution where official rather than soviet government prevailed their only known recourse against personal restraint to which they were not accustomed was riotous rebellion.

Warden Thomas very correctly makes the point that the aim of any prison reform should be obedience to discipline on the part of the prisoners, as well as judicious official leniency in management. It must be recognized that it is not the part of any management, reform or otherwise, to encourage prisoners to rebellious behavior, and that no policy is worthy the name of reform that instills into the mind of the individual, who stands convicted of disobedience to the law of his country, rebellion against authority constituted, with proper restraints, to see that he pays the penalty set against him.

Otherwise penal statutes lose their effect, convicts become a law unto themselves, and penal reform, that must be credited with doing much good, will become a farce.

REGULATED CRAP SHOOTING.

It is evident that our colleges despair of eradicating the tendency of students to roll the galloping dominoes, and have decided to bring the game under official restriction and sanction. At any rate, we take this notice from the University of Wisconsin Bulletin:

"All students who are thru with their bones please check them in as soon as possible. Those who still require their use, hand in a slip stating the bones you have out, so as to check up with our record."

We have often been accused of being an extravagant nation. Thrift is advised by our big men and we are asked to invest our savings in standard securities. When we try to follow out this advice and buy securities in companies which are supposed to represent the national wealth and resources, we are surprised to find out that thru mismanagement and overcapitalization—to use a slang expression—we are stung. Would it not have been better to have spent the money and at least gotten something for the money?

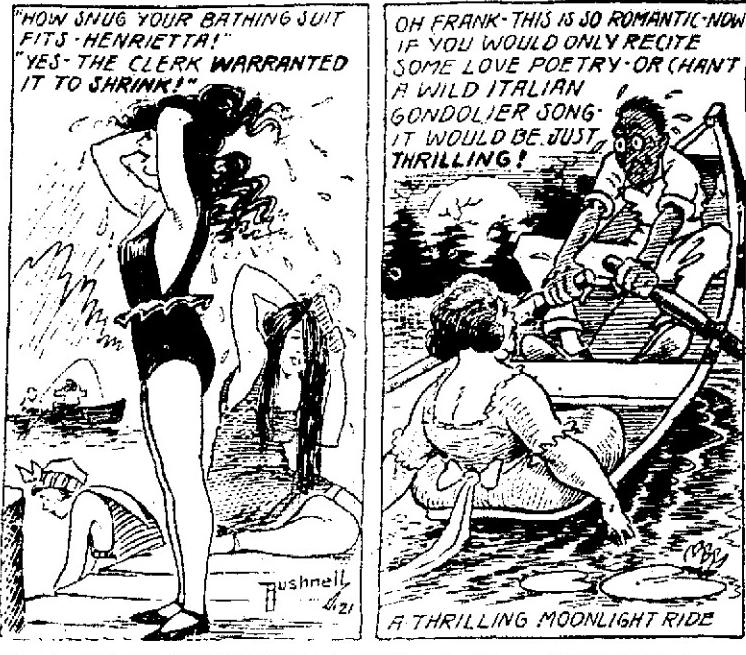

It is not possible to encourage thrift unless the results of thrift are made worth while. That is a law and there is relativity about it. The example should come from the top and spurious securities should not be allowed to exist.

It is not my intention to start a colony and publish a newspaper about what is right or wrong. I have too much sense of humor for that; but this subject is worth thinking about.

PROFESSOR STEINBRUGGE SAYS: Are you a wife? Theoretically, you should be a help and comfort to your husband. Do you assert too much individuality and do you wish to shine too much on your own? Marriage is a partnership and you are not the senior partner. There is no need of a senior partner in a successful firm.

Being a woman, you have the advantage of getting on your conclusions with the aid of your intuition. You may realize progress and its meaning, but progress has got to be attained according to certain well-defined laws. Naturally you are an incentive to your husband but he has got to carry the load. Should he quit you would find that the load is heavier than he let you think it was. Perhaps you think that your husband is neglecting you. Some husbands do, but the average do not.
